Please select the size for your snowshoes according to these guidelines.

Weight guidelines below include your body weight AND any gear you are wearing or carrying. As a rule, smaller shoes are easier to walk on. If close to a size break, choose larger shoes if you have long legs, wear a hefty pack, regularly break trail, or have light, fluffy snow. Choose smaller shoes for shorter legs, denser snow, or packed trails (even if new snow covers the old tracks).
